

Everyone matters, everyone can improve on at least one thing

It makes me feel like I belong.

Show choir is like my best "sport" because I'm obviously not very good at any sport so show choir is the only place where I could really excel in.

Being supportive of other people in the group and other groups, no matter their skill level and being overall good people.

West Branch Fine Arts Connection

2014 – 2015 Membership form

What does Fine Arts mean to our kids? Read the quotes around this letter as they all came from a survey of students last spring. The West Branch Fine Arts Connection is the support organization for the art, band, choir and theater departments in the middle school and high school. Last spring, we were able to give $15,000 to these departments which will be used during this school year to purchase supplies for the play and musical, music for the bands and choirs and choreography for the show choir. This money came from the generous contributions of our Fine Arts Community and families through memberships and fund raising. We need your financial and volunteer support again!

The following Patron levels will be recognized in the concert programs and ads:

Working together to get things done.

Having fun and trying our hardest.

Shows people how good a small school can do and show other schools how good our fine arts is.

Believing in what we do.

It lets people express themselves and it gives people confidence.

Putting forth your best effort, and giving 100% all the time.

The excitement of performing.

It's great when students from different grades
get along.

I finally had a family.

I also just love the thrill
of performing and the satisfaction
of knowing
after I come off state
that I gave it
my all.

It's fun
to perform with a group. It is so cool.

That I get to have fun
and be me.

It makes me more confident
as a person.

Feeling needed
in the group.

We are just as important as sports and we need people to realize that we are just as serious and competitive as any other activity.
